sdmay23-21: Automatically aligned wireless smartphone charger
Week 6 Report
October 30 - November 4

Team Members

Greg Matson — Lead Researcher, Lead Tester
Jeremy Noeson — Scribe, Lead Software Desginer
Jack Welch — Lead Prototype Designer, Lead Tester
Malakhi Barkley — Lead Prototype Designer, Lead Software Designer
Remington Greatline — Lead Researcher, Lead Hardware Designer
Noah Pritchard — Client Interactor, Lead Hardware Designer

Summary of Progress this Report

This week, we met in a voice call, and delegated more detailed roles for everyone so that we can all contribute to the project in more meaningful ways. Roles include Lead Hardware Designer, Lead Prototype Designer, and Lead Testers. We also planned a meeting with our client for next week. On top of this, we will meet this weekend in groups to work on the project separately.

Pending Issues

There are no pending issues to report at this time.

Plans for Upcoming Reporting Period

We plan on doing a deep research into the specific parts we plan on using in our schematic, as well as planning out the design specification. We also need to put weekly report 5 and our new roles onto our website.

Individual Contributions

Team Member	Contribution	Weekly Hours	Total Hours
Greg Matson	Helped designate everyone's new roles that caters to our skill sets. Performed research on the specific parts we plan on using in our final design. Filled out our weekly report.	3
Jeremy Noeson	Helped designate everyone's new roles that caters to our skill sets. Also wrote out our meeting minutes.	2
Jack Welch	Helped designate everyone's new roles that caters to our skill sets.	2
Malakhi Barkley	Helped designate everyone's new roles that caters to our skill sets.	2	0
Remington Greatline	Helped designate everyone's new roles that caters to our skill sets. Performed research on	3	0 the specific parts we plan on using in our final design.

Noah Pritchard	Helped designate everyone's new roles that caters to our skill sets. Also communicated with our client in sending the weekly report and scheduling a meeting for next week.	3	0

Gitlab Activity Summary
Nothing to report.